We are a national retailer that sells alcohol as part of a broad offering of goods and services. We have held off-licences in our stores for many years and are an approved British Institute of Inn-keeping examination centre. We have written training policies and formal training programmes are in place, which ensure our people are equipped to meet all licensing objectives. All training and revision/refresher materials are reviewed regularly and reflect the requirements of the Act. We have introduced our 'Think 21' policy to all of our stores in July 2004, this policy is brought to customer's attention through point of sale material at the checkout and wherever alcohol is displayed for sale. We take legal compliance very seriously and in addition to local training we employ a central alcohol licensing compliance manager and have a compliance committee. All the measures that we currently have in place during licensed hours would continue to be in place during any additional hours that alcohol would be sold in the store.

Provision of Portable Fire-Fighting Equipment at Tesco Stores

General

Portable fire extinguishers are provided as a means of first aid fire fighting equipment but should not be considered for use on a large fire or as an aid to escape. Their portability and immediate availability allows for prompt intervention by an individual at the start of a fire.

Therefore the suitability and location will dictate the types and quantity of fire fighting equipment that is required

Suitability

Imprex Foam Extinguisher

The general purpose extinguisher deployed at Tesco stores is a 6 Litre foam (Imprex) extinguisher. It can be used on solid carbonaceous fires (Class A) involving fuels such as timber, paper, plastic etc or on flammable liquid fires, such as petrol or cooking oil (Class B).

A simple formula is used to calculate the minimum number of general purpose (class A) and (class B) extinguishes that should be provided:

$$\frac{\text{The gross floor area (metres)} \times 0.065}{27^*} = \text{Number Class A extinguishers required (rounded up)}$$

(27 being the 'A' rating of the extinguisher)

$$\frac{\text{Largest volume of spill of flammable liquid (litres)} \times 10}{183^*} = \text{Number of Class B extinguishers required}$$

(183 being the 'B' rating of the extinguisher)

Carbon Dioxide Extinguisher

These are provided by Tesco stores on fires involving live electric equipment. There is no guidance on the numbers required, however, due to widespread use of electrical equipment in Tesco stores, they are readily available in most areas

Additionally fire blankets are available in cooking areas.

Location

A person should not travel more than 30 metres to reach a suitable fire extinguisher from any point within the store. Additional extinguishers (above those needed to achieve an 'A' rating) may need to be provided to meet this requirement, but this is unlikely due to the layout of most Tesco stores.

Where possible, extinguishers are located adjacent to fire alarm call points (which in turn are adjacent to fire exits) forming a fire point, where the alarm can be raised and a decision made whether to attempt to tackle the fire or flee through the exit.

P) Proposals by the applicant in order to promote the four licensing objectives:

a) General – all four licensing objectives (b,c,d,e)

Tesco are a national retailer that sells alcohol as part of a broad offering of goods and services. The Company have held off-licenses in their stores for many years and are an approved British Institute of Inn-keeping examination centre. Training policies have been written and formal training programmes are in place, which ensure that staff are equipped to meet all licensing objectives. All training and revision/refresher materials are reviewed regularly and are currently being re-written to reflect the requirements of the new Act. A 'Think 21' policy has been introduced to the stores and this is brought to the attention of customers through the point of sale material at the checkout and wherever alcohol is displayed for sale. The Company has taken the legal compliance seriously and in addition to local training Tesco employ an alcohol licensing compliance manager and have a compliance committee. All measures that were currently in place during any additional hours that alcohol was sold will continue to be in place.

b) The prevention of crime and disorder

Dear Mr Powell,

Re: Application for Variation of premises license – Tesco Stores, Caird Avenue, New Milton.

Thank you for your letter dated 21st July, regarding an application to increase the store opening times and sale of alcohol for consumption off the premises shown above. This issue was discussed at a meeting of our Planning Committee on 31st July.

The Committee objects most strongly to the proposal, on the following grounds.

- Prevention of crime and disorder –It is felt that the sale of alcohol up to 23.30hrs will cause further problems at night with anti-social behaviour, therefore disturbing residents (many of whom are elderly/vulnerable) at a time when they should expect to feel entirely safe in their homes; and
- Protection of children from harm – It is acknowledged that the store's staff restricts access of alcohol to those underage. However they cannot prevent a purchase by someone who is of age, who provides the goods to those underage once out of the store. We feel this leads back to point number one above, which includes both those over and under 18.

Would you please take this representation into account when considering the application.

Yours sincerely

Dear Cllr. Beck,

I am writing to you as you are the crime + disorder portfolio holder for NFDC.

I am concerned by the application by Tesco's to a variation order to the alcohol licensing hours.

I have contacted the licensing dept at NFDC + Tesco's regarding the proposed changes to the already granted licensing hours.

NFDC answer, the applicant can apply for what hours they wish whether they are granted or not. Tesco's answer this is our normal license application.

My main concern is for the proposed Sunday hours 10.00 am to 10.30 pm when the store is only open 10.00am to 4.00pm. Does it take 6½ hours to go through the checkout, I think not!

With CCTV to be installed in the town area the any antisocial, alcohol + related problems will now be areas not covered by CCTV.

From national TV. we constantly see mayhem due to alcohol excess. Has the Chief Constable sufficient resources in this area should the need arise.

We should plan ahead for such needs.

With the proposed alterations to car park area at Tesco's. Will we be seeing further applications for planning permission to alter the petrol station to incorporate a convenience store/off license when the main store is shut.

I enclose a copy of the original permission granted + have asked NFDC how there been any variation to the attached conditions.

The area adjacent to Tesco / Carrick Way + the footpaths especially the one from Ashby Road (The old Dairy) to Tesco is very often covered with beer cans, bottles, food wrappers + supermarket carrier bags. Can the council tidy this area.

Arnewood Park estate open spaces when maintained by the developers was kept tidy. now under council control shrubs + hedgerows vegetation becoming very overgrown.

Last spring I had a little pick in the hedgerows near of my property + filled a black plastic bag of the above rubbish.

Thank you for taking time to read this letter

Yours sincerely

Dear Mr Linnell,

Re: Tesco – proposed licensing hours

I am in receipt of your letter dated 6th August 2008 addressed to Cllr Beck regarding the proposed licensing hours for the Tesco store. Cllr Beck has asked me to respond.

I think it may be beneficial to highlight what persons adversely affected by licensed premises can do and what councils can and cannot do to assist.

The Licensing Authority in the form of its licensing staff cannot on their own account change any proposed condition(s) for a premises licence application under the Licensing Act 2003. However, specified organisations, known as 'responsible authorities', including the police, fire service and local authority environmental health departments can make objections. Specified persons, known as 'interested parties' can also object to the proposals and make representations. Those individuals must live in the vicinity of the licensed premises. There must be evidence to substantiate the objection and the objection must be based on the licensing objectives, which include public safety, crime and disorder, public nuisance and protection of children.

In relation to your specific complaint I have asked for your details and your observations to be included as an objection to the licence. You will receive details of this within a few days.

Yours sincerely
